

Publishing Instructions:

1. Manuscripts and articles must not exceed 20 pages including even the figures and tables.
2. Researcher (register /login) to the journal website and submits the following files
  - Two copies of his manuscript (with and without names) according to the journal requirements and instructions.
  - Declaration form have to be filled (Please, Download it from journal homepage).
  - Copyright agreement have to be filled (Please, Download it from journal homepage).
3. The journal requirements and instructions are shown below (you can download journal template from the homepage):
  - a. Page layout: 3 cm from top and bottom, 2.25 cm from right and left.
  - b. The research should be written in Times New Roman.
  - c. The first page must be dedicated only to the title, author/authors names, abstract, keywords, Arabic title and abstract. It must be written in a single column with single space between lines.
  - d. Title must be written in the middle of the page and in bold as an example:
Soil-Structure Interaction of Retaining Wall under Earthquake Loads
4. One line with the size of (14) is left below the title, where the name, the scientific title, place of work and the email of the author or authors are written centrally in bold and size (10).
5. The abstract is then written after leaving a single line with size (12), centered with size (12) as:
ABSTRACT
6. The abstract is written in size (12), and it includes a general view of the research, the problem, the aim, method of solution, the most significant results and conclusions, in not more than 200 words and size (12).
7. A line of size (12) is left, and after it, the keywords are written as Keywords, where 3 to 5 relevant keywords are written in size (12), as an example:
Keywords: retaining wall, earthquake, etc.
8. A line of size (12) is left, and after it, the Arabic title is written in bold and size (14).
9. A line of size (14) is left, and after it, the names, the scientific title, place of work and without the emails are written in Arabic.
10. A line of size (1) is left to write:
الخلاصة
11. The Arabic abstract is written in the same way as the English one.
12. The research is written in size (12), single space, lower case and in a single column.
13. The headlines are written in UPPERCASE, bold and size (12). It must be numbered using Arabic numbers, space is left after the number, and a line must be left before the headline. The headlines are written immediately after the left margin, as an example:
  1. INTRODUCTION
14. The subheadings are written in size (1), lowercase and bold with the first letter in uppercase. It must be numbered using Arabic numbers, space is left after the number, and a line must be left before the headline. The headlines are written immediately after the left margin, as an example:
  - 1.1 General AspectIn case there is a paragraph in the subheadings, it must be written in lowercase, size (12) and with the starting letter of the first word in uppercase, as an example:
  - 1.1.1 Sample case analysis
15. It must be referred to an equation as Eq. (1) through the article. The equation must be written un Italic, with its number to the right of the equation with no ..... A line must be left before and after the equation. The equation must not be introduced as a picture, as an example:

$$y=5x^2$$

(1)

16. The references should be referred to through the research in Bold. The last name and the year is given, as an example: Duprez, 2007

For two: Duprez and Dumont, 2007

For more than that: Duprez, et al., 2007

17. The references must be gathered at the end of the research in alphabetical form with a line before and after each reference. As an example:

Duprez, M. E., 2007, Modeling of Reciprocating and Scroll Compressors, International Journal of Refrigeration, vol.30, No.5, PP. 873-886.

Or:

Duprez, M. E., and Dumont, E. S., 2010, Modeling of Reciprocating and Scroll Compressors, International Journal of Refrigeration, Vol. 40, No. 3, PP. 150-170.

Or:

Duprez, M. E., Dumont, E. S., and Frere, M. R., 2011, Modeling of reciprocating and scroll compressors, International Journal of Refrigeration, Vol. 41, No. 25, PP. 62-80.

18. The list of nomenclature is introduced after that are used after that, where it must be started with Latin characters, then Greek ones in lowercase with units, as an example:

NOMENCLATURE;

A= area, m<sup>2</sup>.

$\beta$  =factor of variation, dimensionless.

19. The tables and figures are introduced at the end of the research after the nomenclature. No photos of the tables are allowed.

20. The title of the figure is centered, in size (12) and lowercase with the first letter of the first word in uppercase. The figure and its number are referred to in bold. As an example:

Figure 5. Groundwater pressure on the retaining wall.

Through the research, the figure is referred to as:

It is clear from Fig. 5 that the behavior.....

21. The table and its number are referred to in bold, and size (12). Its title must be written in lowercase with the first letter in uppercase. It must be written in the left margin and at the top of the table, as an example:

Table 6. Geotechnical properties of sand.

22. The author is entirely responsible for the research and its contents.

23. The Journal has the rights to publish and print the researches

Revisions

Authors who receive a decision of Minor Revision or Major Revision have 45 days to resubmit the revised manuscript.